The February-June 2018 IPC projection for Somalia (issued at the end of January 2018) was based on the following main assumptions:

- A harsh 2018 Jilal (Jan-Mar)
- Likely below average 2018 Gu (Apr-Jun) rainfall across most parts of Somalia
- Limited/no humanitarian assistance
- A total Somalia population of 12.3 million with the following breakdown: 5.2 million urban, 6 million rural and 1.1 million IDPs (see table below)

Projected IPC figure for April-June 2018 have been revised as shown in the above table based on a combination of the following:

- Jilal impact of 2018 Jilal (Jan-Mar): mild Jilal
- Impact of 2018 Gu (Apr-Jun) rainfall: average to above average most parts of Somalia
- Riverine and flash floods in April and May and likely impact on food security
- Sustained, large-scale humanitarian (food security) assistance (1.7 to 1.9 million per month between Feb-April 2018)
- Changes (increases) in IDP population figures and a corresponding change in rural and urban population: 4.5 million urban, 5.1 million rural and 2.6 million IDPs (2.2 million urban IDPs and 0.4 million rural IDPs)

Changes in population figures used for IPC analyses in 2018:

Somalia Population	2014 (PESS)	2018*	Change (%)
Total	12,327,529	12,327,529	0%
Urban	5,216,392	4,544,833	-13%
Rural	5,993,749	5,134,696	-14%
IDP	1,117,388	2,648,000	137%

Note 2018*:

New IDP figures for 2018 obtained from OCHA/UNHCR/IOM (IMWG). Total population for 2018 maintained at 12.3 million (same as in PESS 2014). Urban and Rural population for 2018 adjusted by FSNAU based on the new IDP figures and some and some plausible assumptions about their place of origin
